And Introducing The West Virginia University School of Medicine CLASS of 2002....

We would all like to thank our family and friends, the faculty and staff at WVU, patients and families who let us be a part of their lives, and those countless others in the community.

Below: In memory of Cruz Cooper, Danelle Phelps-Wilson's special friend who passed away during our 4th year.

Our class officers: L to R: Olivia Ostrow (M. treas), Jason Yonker (C. soc. chair), Serrhel Adams (M. pres.), Jen Tordilla (C. soc. chair), Eric Adkins (C. pres), Michael Stickler (M. soc. chair), Rushia Slade (C. treas), Corey VanHoff (M. v.pres.), Cyrus Kavasmaneck (C. v.pres.).

Courtney and I at Rome, Italy: I hope that I can still keep a smile while going through my general surgery residency.

June 16, 2001, the day our friends gathered to watch Courtney and I wed. Jason (AKA Mr. Saturday Night) was there to express his great joy.

Jason Gunn and I at Chicago: you couldn't tell by the picture but Jason enjoyed his visit so much that he decided to do his residency training there.

To Courtney, I think of you not only as my soul mate but also my best friend. I am thankful each day to be with you and share my life with such a loving and delightful person.

These four years have gone too fast to recall all the great moments. I would like to thank the many friends I have made throughout my years especially Jason Gunn. We have traveled a long road from those Dadisman Hall days as college freshmen. I owe great appreciation to my parents who have given me encouragement when I have needed them most. Pany, Scott and Chad thank you for all your love and support.

Instructions from Life's Little Instruction Book

Thank You

Say "thank you" a lot.

Watch a sunrise at least once a year.

Buy great books, even if you never read them.

Treat everyone you meet like you want to be treated.

Never give up on anybody. Miracles happen every day.

Be brave. Even if you're not, pretend to be. No one can tell the difference.

Never encourage anyone to become a lawyer.

Avoid like the plague any lawsuit.

S m i l e

Smile a lot. It costs nothing and is beyond price.

Arrive at work early and stay beyond quitting time

Leave everything a little better than you found it.

Practice empathy. Try to see things from other people's point of view.

*The John W. Traubert
White Coat Ceremony*

2000

White Coat Ceremony

The White Coat Ceremony was first held at WVU School of Medicine in 1996 to mark the transition from basic science years to clinical medicine rotations. Receiving the white coat symbolizes the change from reading about diseases to diagnosing diseases as well as learning treatments to prescribing them.

Halloween

Party

The word "Halloween" dates back to the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain. The Celts, who lived 2,000 years ago in the area that is now Ireland celebrated their new year on November 1. This day marked the end of summer and the harvest and the beginning of the dark, cold winter, a time of year that was often associated with human death. Celts believed that on the night before the new year, the boundary between the worlds of the living and the dead became blurred. On the night of October 31, they celebrated Samhain, when it was believed that the ghosts of the dead returned to earth. To commemorate the event, they built huge sacred bonfires, where the people gathered to burn crops and animals as sacrifices to the Celtic deities. During the celebration, the Celts wore costumes, typically consisting of animal heads and skins. Eventually, November 1st became known as All Saints' Day, and the night before began to be called All-hallows Eve and, eventually, Halloween.

The ancient symbol of Asclepius is a knotted wooden staff around which a mystical snake is coiled. Asclepius, son of Apollo, was a Greek healer who became a Greek demigod, and was a famous physician. Shrines and temples of healing known as Asclepieia were erected throughout Greece where the sick would come to worship and seek cures for their ills. Harmless serpents were kept here, tended by Asclepius' daughter and were held sacred by Asclepius. Asclepius himself was thought to sometimes appear in the form of a snake. The staff of Asclepius with a coiled serpent is the symbol of health and wisdom.

More than 2,500 physicians and medical students dedicated to improving the health of West Virginia

To gain insights into your profession not offered by any lab, lecture or library, we invite you to join the members of organized medicine. At the local, state and national level of organized medicine the door is open for your involvement.

As a medical student, when you join the West Virginia State Medical Association, you will automatically become a member of the American Medical Association at no additional charge.

For more information regarding membership, contact your campus coordinator or call (304) 925-0342 or 1-800-257-4747.
